Malta's New Status

Nature, according to the old axiom, ab-hors a vacuum. And politics offers a parallel in the situation in Malta.

The Mediterranean island, awarded the rge Cross for its people's collective and val-resistance to enemy air and naval attacks in the last war, is shaking off its British con-

It is doing this by demanding from Britain defence rental monies so excessive that the lat-

Despite Maltese Prime Minister Dom Mintoff's demand for an immediate withdrawal of British forces and their dependents the British say it will take three months to accomplish this. They have warned Mintoff they will not tolerate any interference with these plans. Be-sides, Britain can point to the fact its payments are still in good standing.

This may cool Mintoff's ardor, but it is unlikely to alter the fact of Britain's ultimate withdrawal or the enormous gap the move will

Malta is said to be looking to Libva, of all laces, to help fill the vacuum, but it is an economically dependent nation too and cannot be expected to contribute more than a fraction.

The fear is that the Soviet Union eventu-ally will fill the gap. Even though the British insist the island is not as strategically import-ant as it once was, the prospect of it becom-ing a Soviet naval stronghold, perhaps even a political satellite, cannot be overtooked as is, Mintoff has concluded a trade agreement with the Soviets who also have a foothold in Egypt and are seeking closer, ties with Algeria.

By the same token Malta will be paying a price for its nationalism. The economic loss it will suffer through the British withdrawal will have to be replaced somehow; hence the deal with Russia. In terms of national identity, however, this could be a shadowy thing indeed, about as insubstantial as that of Cuba, de-pendent as it is on a far-off supply link and thereby little more than a puppet state.

The Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena is surely one of the most stirring and impressive outdoor spectacles of our day.

The setting, amid the palm trees of Pasadena's downtown, with the temperature in the low seventies, and against a backdrop of the San Gabriel mountains, snow on their aks, is incomparable.

The host who see it on television on New Year's day can almost scent the roses, millions of them from as far away as Australia. Those who are actually there to see the parade in person are doubly fortunate.

The floats attest to man's highest degree of creativity, his love of beauty, his generosity creativity, his love of beauty, his generosity spirit, his reaching for the stars. There are e young people: spirited young men from hools and universities short - stepping it ong the boulevard in that all-American riot of movement and sound; the glorious young women of the majorette groups, so completely alive and radiant.

And among these the entrants from Canada: a highland band from Thunder Bay, their visit sponsored by the government, another group from Regina, and a float from Nova Scotla, the only Canadian province represented, and graced by singer Anne Murray.

A capsule presentation of all that is best in North America life, and depicting a wide range of activities from the work of professional men and service organizations to such worthy causes as the American Spilepsy Associations. Here is a float with the Associa-Association's. Here is a float with the Associa-tion's pretty poster girl representing the theme, "from darkness into light." It is the kind of campaign which incidentally, could be pressed to advantage in this country to combat the lingering ignorance and prejudice in the public attitude to this disease.

While we view this great Californian spectacle, albeit at a distance of a couple of thousand of miles thanks to the miracle of television, and perhaps to some extent through rose - colored spectacles, we cannot ignore some less attractive aspects of the United States scene.

Consider that in Detroit the New Your began with a flurry of murders. In one indicates two temage girls atopped in response to a car's flashing lights, believing the signal to be form police. In the assault that followed one girl was stabbed more than a score of times, and that in a city which last year had more than 600 homicides, where downtown is tunseled say or night, and which spears to be fast becoming the arch symbol of American unrun decaders.

Or take the State of Florida of perennial warmth and sunny disposition. Its beaches and coastline, we are hearing with startling regularity, are in the mire of that worldwide problem of pollution. Just the other day a problem of pollution. Just the other day a State environmental official was quoted as saying that almost all of the fish being con-sumed in Florida is from outside, its own fishing grounds having been virtually emptled by pollution, dredging and oceanside con-

No part of this world is all sweetness and or part of into word is an aweedless that light. Human nature with its ambivalent character does not permit of this The United States scene, however, has perhaps more than its fair share of darkness of spirit and conduct, in the alums and ghettos, even among the vast numbers of artificient and well-lo-do. A na-tion of 200,000,000 which sees some 17,000 tion of 200,000,000 which sees some :17,000 homicless annually and where urban dwellers must seal their home entrances with elaborate locks and chains. If only, instead of the handguns numbering millions in personal possession in the U.S., citizens had punchballs, maybe in such a simple device much of the family tensions which result in many slayings could be channelled harmlessly away.

Capital Gains

We complained recently of lack of informa-tion about the ramifications of the new Capital tion about the raminications of the new Capital Gains Tax. About all we knew about it was its anticipated arrival in the new year and we called on the government to release the appropriate information. Now we tearn this information is being mailed out to citizens. For information is being mailed out to citizens. For most of us, we understand, the new tax may have little or no bite, unless we are dealing in sales of stocks and settling of high-priced personal possesions. A minimum figure of $1,000 has been mentioned in this regard. We do know it is going to mean more bureaucracy, and more jobs threein, as additional assessors are hired to police the new tax. The Geographic notes: "Where white values prevail, the promise of lighter skin lures buyers. Rural Zouls care little about akin color as a measure of feminise beauty, preferring such attributes as robustness, diligence, and respect — but the standards of city dwellers are changing through exposure to white-orlented mories and advertising.

Maybe in South Africa they have not yet caught up with the legend of contemporary fashion — that "Black is Beautiful." If that is so, who needs those creams?

Very Irish

The element of farce, a sage observer once noted, is never far below the surface of Irish and politics, and herer more so than in the life and politics, and herer more so than in the the IRA, tragic as it is in error other respect. Parkeal that is when you have members of a Catholic club in Belfast tossing furniture and bottles at troops earching for suspects, then when the heat of battle has died down, serving chinks again and talting with the soldiers.

Girl, 17 Survives Air Crash

LIMA (AP) — A H-rear-old girl survived an airliner crash in the Peruvian jungle on Caristmas Eve, wandered for days in the tropical rain forest, swam across flooded areas and waded through swamps, then built a raft that carried her to a woodcastlers' camp.

Juliane Koepcke, the daughter of two noted German-born ornithologists, was brought to the jumple colony of Tournavista Threaday by two woodcutters who found her semi-conscious, flo a tin go down the Pachilitea River abourd the log and vine raft. From there she was flown to a U.S. missionary centre at Pucallpa, 800 hules northeast of

Her mother is missing in the crash.
The girl was reported suffering from hunger, exhaustion cuts and bruises, but als seemed to be in fair shape.

Valuation Day -What to do

Two Valuation Days have been announced as part of tax reform.

The first, December 22nd 1971, applies to certain publicly traded shares and securities.

The second, December 31st 1971, is for other properties.

properties.

Most taxpayers will not be affected by Valuation
Day. This is explained in a booklet which will be mailed to all taxpayers within the next few weeks.

However, if you own publicly traded shares or securities, you should also obtain the publication
"Publicly Traded Shares and Securities".

You can get it from your District Taxation Office or by writing to:

Taxation Distribution Centre
F.O. Box 2469
XIG 315
XIG 315
This booklet tells you whether December 22nd
1971, is the Valation Day for any abares or securities you own. In most instance, it lists a Valuation Day value.

Information on an experience in general will also be sent to you within the sext for weeks.

Planning Troubles

So now Murray township, as well as the viliage of Stirling, wants to withdraw from the Quinte Planning Board. Each would prefer to belong to its county board — either Hastings or Northumberland-Durham respectively.

ngs or northumberismo-burnam respectively.
Stirling made its views known in this regard late last year — it does not want to pay dues to two boards — but thus far has not received any such permission from the Department of Municipal Affairs.

ment of authorpal Affairs.

Quinte board chairman Jack Bush is on record as saying he does not think the province will allow any members to drop out of the planning board, "unless they have really good reasons."

"It disrupts the whole organization," he

That may well be so, but if there are signa of fragmentation it is because of the conflicting interests of the members of the Quinterbody. Each wants its pound of flesh and if one seems to be getting ahead at the expense of the others there is a degree of friction.

the others there is a degree of incision.

Thus we see that the village of Brighton and Brighton township have provincially approved plans, while Trenton and Stirling have complete plans which have been adopted by their councils, but have not yet been approved.

by the OMB.

Murray toynahip's plan meanwhile is in the planning stages, and background studies are under way for Frankford and the townships of Sidney and Thurlow. As staff reporter Ian Robertson pointed out the small says of Stoney and Lindow, as a season line in Robertson pointed out last week, members say they want the board to proceed with plans for other municipalities in the Quinte planning Board chairman Bush evidently goes along with such reasoning. Mr. Bush, who is reeve of Sidney township, talks of the possibility of hirag additional staff or perhaps employing the same consulting firm to proceed with plans for other municipalities. He envisages proceeding with another section now, without waiting for Belleville's half.

Fortunately, the matter is being taken up at high level, at a January 20 meeting between the Department of Municipal Meeting to the Department of Transportation and Communication, and Quitte planning board representation, and Quitte planning board representation, and Quitte planning board representation, and Quitte planning board representation. UK Miners Strike

Striking Briths coil miners are complaining that their wages in some cases are lower than the welfare payments they would get if out of work. So what clee is new? The same phenomenon is known to occur in this country. In Britain though a strike of coal miners could be a serious matter for a populace which depends so largely on coal as a source of heat.

Snowmobiles: Noise Factor

This is further to R. W. Bos-ton's letter re the snowmobile menace in the Lakeland Acres-Henderson Place area of Kingscism of authority comes out as dangerously close to sounding like a defence of the indefensa-lible. Here is something to com-plain about in the criticism be-ing heard, it is perhaps not so -much in the amount, as in the quality. Shrillness, stridency, exaggeration and the lack of any pause for thought makers noise rather than commont.

No Money? Of course you have heard of the latest government extravagance in Canada — the tropical plants in — where is it — the Transport department's offices in Ottawa — and also in some administrative edifice out there in Alberta?

Not to mention the "retirement" of the CN's turbo train. CR's turto trail.

Yet rail crossings here, there and everywhere across Canada, including our own immediate area, remain unguarded. No warning lights that is, or barriers, and every so often — and too often for comfort — we have those collisions between ears and trains.

And people get killed. . but oh no, there is not the morey to make these death traps more secure. Yet there is money in Ottapes afrom the tarapare's pocket) for departmental beautification, as well as for people to tend the plant's replace the Bay Bridge, some yesteraly of early morning accidents which conceivably could have been much worns than they were could have been much worse than they were. There was no loss of life but the bus collision and its aftermath should give legislators cause to think again — and think hard, for there is more to this world than dollars and

And while we are on this subject what about getting those sanders out both earlier and more frequently. There are lives at state those sedous driving conditions, and of their drivers and motorists generally.

Controllers Strike

The lot of arr air traffic controller is a difficult one. On his technical ability, his mental stability and the often spill-second decisions he must make in the directing of aircraft carrying a hundred or more passengers depend many lives.

some extent may be justified. The controllers perform a vital task. They are worth-every penny they get, ranging from a mere $6,900 to $34,000 although most are said to be earning $4,633. If their hours must be adjusted also, to make allowance for the pressure they are under, then the government must act accordingly.

Denmark's Throne

King Frederick IX of Denmark, a tattooed former sailor who, it is said, ruled with informality and gruff heartiness, was the last in a direct male line that held the Danish throne for 5% centuries.

The end of the male line in Denmark's royal house cannot help but be an occasion of sadness, as it is in any family. Yet it is one of those matters of genealogical fact for which there can be no recourse, no argument, no

Unless of course a monarch does as the Shah of Persia did in divorcing his first wife because she had not borne him a male heir and marries again.

Since there is no male succession the Throne now goes to the eldest of Frederick's three daughters, Margrethe.

Those Ads

How would television survive without the neuroses of the populace which give rise to headaches, real or imaginary, and in turn; those nightly advertisements for this or that pain relieses? pain reliever?

And speaking of advertisements, attention "Women's Lib members! Isn't it time some of you complished about being referred to as the "little, woman?" There is one ad circulating which suggests that hubby might buy a second with of the little woman. The property of the little woman within suggests that hubby might buy a second of the little woman.

Safeguarding a vital service.

Electricity serves the needs of over 200,000 Hydro customers in Ontario. Their requirements are as different as the varied induriers, businesses and families numbered among them. But all of them count on a dependable, uninterrupted flow of power. Salistying their needs are some 255 generators at 76 power isalions across the province. The power is transmitted over 21;207 miles of line a distance neatly equal to a trip a distance neatly equal to a trip

- a distance nearly equal to a trip d the world.

The continuous, round-the-clock channelling and control of all these widely scattered power resources are concentrated at one key location. Hydro's System Control Centre at Richview, on the catakirts of Toronto, is where it all happens. Here, a highly skilled and seasoned staff must match the power supply to constantly chang-

LET'S TALK ABOUT BUDGETS!

Budgeting is tough these days, it seems that every time you turn around the cost of something is going up. The economists tell us it's to be expected. Maybe so, but it sure makes running a home difficult.

You can't buy better, A&P brands are the gual of or better than any brand you know, and they're guaranteed . . . unconditionally.

PTA's Value Described

During the discussion it was REVEALED THAT SOME Bell revealed that some Belleville units have continued in exist-ence; but have severed their affiliation with the provincial affiliation with the provincial PTA executive.

"This cannot be done under "This cannot be done under PTA appellation," Sister Pickett declared.

She said there is a gulf be-tween the teachers and the community on the value of Ca-thable networklen.

The Arts Scene

Last week we were talking about the re-toration of the historic Opera House in Co-oung's municipal building and expressed the ope it would see many another cultural hap-ening, by artistes from home and abroad.

"Canadians," we added, "must support the arts to a greater degree and the people of Co-bourg are setting a fine example."

In other words we do not need to be re-minded that the arts in Canada, in the words of John Hobday, national director of the Can-adian Conference of the Arts, "is a depressed

More we need to be convinced, as he sug-gested at a recent meeting of the Quinte Arts Council, that the community is changing. From our reading of the report on the meeting, the Hobiday did not seem to eliaborate specifically on this point; rather he said there was such balance between sports corresage and that deed to the arts.

women to the arts.

Well among Camadiani, as among most populations, it is in the nature of the beast to be hearly interested in sport, and to the detriment of art, culture, call it what you will. We suppose a higher proportion of the populace of Belleville would prefer to go out and play bingo than watch say Teress Stratas in Le Rondine on television.

There are 38 boards with stated the members on these boards and committees. There are 38 boards with a total of 148 members, if my addition is correct. Of those 14st and 14st are the second of the second Doly 44 positions are held by 30 citizens of this city. This to me seems quite unfair, that with a population that is 33,000 very possibly 40,000 by his year's end, as estimated by Mayor Scott, only 38 citizens are on these boards and committees.

'Task Forces'

The thought occurs that if all the money spent on reyal commissions and similar bodies, and if all the ideas presented by consultants, were pooled, studied and taken advantage of, Canada would be a great deal better off in many ways.

We might have licked the housing short-age by now, found more money for building plants, and created more job opportunities and youth programs. And what about aid for the poor or helping the poor to help themselyes, not to mention such problems as unguard-ed rail crossings for which municipalities claim they have not the money to tackie.

The list is endiess, but all we have to show in many of these areas are commissions, task forces study groups and all the rest of that type of high-priced investigation which govments are unable — or unwilling — to undertake themselves.

Now we see Solicitor-General Goyer is admitting that extensive changes are nesded in the parole system. So what does he do? He has inted one of those task forces (the miner's own word for it, we understand) to look nato scrote.

A committee of the embattled Senate is also investigating parole so it will be interesting to see what transpires. Will offenders against society get their just desserts — their full term in prison for instance, or will we be treated to more parole fissoos like the release treated to more p

Meanwhile let us take seriously the fact that a lot of consultant and task force work is going to waste (waste of tarpayer money included) at every level of government be-cause it is not acted upon

There was that aristocratic fellow with the tongue - twisting name — Captain Sir Ranujah Twistelon - Wykeham - Flennes Bt. who leat summer led an expedition through some remote tract of British Golumbia which has been the subject of legend.

The doughty young barunet, whose wife was a member of the party, completed the expedition but we gather was broke by the end of it all, with scarcely a penny left to get them back to Britain.

Now we see another British army expedi-tion is about to tackie the rough and tough tion is about to tackie the rough and tough Darien Gap — 250 miles of jungles, swamps and mountains of Central America — into Colombia. This achieved (maybe) they will push on to Cape Horn, completing a journey we understand began in Alaska.

The man in charge of this group, which will include three women, also has a suitably intrepid name. He is Major John Balshford - Snelli of the Royal Engineers and we wish him the best of British luck.

There have been others in this similarly whacky tradition — like the paratrooper chap who rowed a boat across the Atlantic. The British, for some reason, seem peculiarly adept at this sort of thing.

Betsy Clifford relicement is a blow to Canadian adding and its future hopes in world competition. Miss Clifford says she had been planning to retire after the Olympics anyway. Rough Going

George Archer, seen here escaping the rough, has a penchant for playoffs on the United States professional golf tour. Archer, who won the Gien Campbell Los Angeles Open in a three-way playoff against Tommy Aaron and Dave Hill in a playoff two weeks ago, went into an 18-hole playoff today against Miller Barber for the $30,000 top money in the Dean Martin - Tuscon Open. The loser earns $17,100. (AP Photo)

THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE UTILIZATION OF EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES

The Legislative Assembly of Ontario has established a Select Committee of its Members to "enquire into the Utilization of Educational Facilities." The Committee is guided by the following terms of reference:

The Committee should enquire into the potentialities and possi-bilities for the increased use of educational facilities throughout Ontario at all levels including post-secondary facilities.

Specifically the Committee should cannine such matters as:

 The wider community use of its educational Facilities.
 community programs.
 community programs.
 ways and means by which the above-mentioned activities could be brought about and emphasized.

In order that the Committee be made aware of the thoughts of the public in this regard, interested individuals and groups are invited to submit their ideas in writing to:

The Clerk of the Select Committee on the Utilisation of Educational Facilities

Room 104

Main Parliament Building Toronto 2, Ontario

2. In future Public Hearings will be held in various locations throughput Ontario. Advance notification of the meetings will be published in the local newspapers. Persons withing to appear before the Commissionaries of the other characteristics and the commissionaries to the Cierc (at the above address) so that they may be included on the Commissionaries absolute.

Hanoi Says No

Almost as soon as the words were out of this month President Hittmn-kalest peace offer was rejected by the Roth Vistimanes and Viet Cong. And predictably at that in view of past was the communits. Mr. Mixon may have gained a further edge over his Democrati-to party opponents at home, but in Hanol's view he might just as well have saved his breath.

That is the trouble with the Communists in that part of the world. They simply will not give in, either in the cat-and-mouse game that is the war, or at the conference table. If there is to be any detente, any agreement, it must be on their terms. And that, in Hanol's view, eans complete withdrawal of United States rees from Vietnam, President Nixon for his part says there can be no withdrawal of U.S. forces without prior agreement by the Communists to release American prisoners of war.

The Hate Fad

Being an attended and the state of the state of the state of the less similarlie traits of many of the less similarlie traits of human nature. Assaination for course is the arch aymbol of disordered minds, while sizes between the less twisted support of hater and the manifest themselves. Prime Sinister Health has been the laster from the state of the sta in Brusels.

His attacker was an attractive young woman described as German born with an assumed English name and living in Sweden which puts her almost on a par with the "Heiga R Huyhes" lady linked with the mysterious "antoblography" of Howard Rughes.

Mr. Heath may have been embarrassed, he is still very much alive and well which is the main thing. The young woman allegedly responsible for the deed even had the decency committee for one deed even had the decency select ink, along with another female cohort, cause it was "non-toxic."

The reported reason for the attack reveals me degree of eccentricity. The two women some degree of eccentricity. The two women had gone to Brussels to lobby the world's press about their complaints that the British government had "stolen" the plan for a building development in central London. Another version of this was that they were protesting a plan to turn London's central market at Corporation of the stolength of the contract of the contract of the contract and the contract of the contrac ent Garden into an international centre. Tak tak . . . What next!

A Different World

Pennyivanian Art Wall, 48, has been one of the top men on the gold circuit for 23 years and he is beginning to toy with the lose of retiring or going into semi-retriement. A wimer of a doesn tour titles (the lost the Canadian open in a playoff with Lee Trevilo, as well as events oversas, Wall says he would like to spend more time at home. Known as a quelle gentlemanly personality, Wall says it will depend on how well he does this year. Pennsylvanian Art Wall, 48, has been one eanwhile it is interesting to note his views on the golf circuit, for professional golf-ers are regarded almost as supermen and are nized wherever they go.

Looking at his long spell on the tour Wall said: "It is a different world out here (he was in Tuesen for the Dean Martin tourney). You get a distorted sense of values, or completely lose a sense of values. You're fussed over and catered to. You're always at the best places and people make a big thing out of you. It's just a different world. . ."

And who would not enjoy exchanging places for a while at least, although when you are at the top and have that kind of life it is are at the top and have that kind of life it is not easy to settle for anything less. However, we know Wall is a family man. When he was in Montreal last year for the open he had his family, with him and took them to Dorval airport to watch the jets arrive and depart. And we recall him saying "we don't often have a chance like this."

The subject of discrimination in society is one which invites every kind of viewpoint — all in themselves the products of discriminating intellects reflecting various prejudices and none, for that reason, reflecting the entire

Rene Cassin, Nobel peace prizewinner in 1968, has some interesting observations in this regard; they were quoted recently in this news-paper by columnist Doris Clark.

"Discrimination," Cassin says in part, "has roots deep in human nature. Every human being instinctively feels intolerance towards anything 'different' from himself. Even his als and his kinsmen do not always escape the consequences of this reflex.

"How much stronger, therefore, is the re-action to the stranger, to the man who is difaction to the stranger, to the man shall be ferent by virtue of family, origin or color. Human groups — family, clan, tribe, town/country — are especially apt to assert their individuality by meting unequal treatment out to the members of other groups."

Cassin goes on to note the efforts of the United Nations, through its declaration of principles, to forge a "unity of mankind" ed only by the few throughout the ages. Course we are no nearer to that goal than eyer, there being discrimination between peoples of different colors, or because their eyes are "oddly made," or because their eyes the same color but of differing religion. mbjects and have been well expressed.

We remind readers that letters should be not more than 500 words in length and as subject to editing. There is a tendercy at times among those who write letters to newspapers to get hat under the coluins as it went, even to treer need (maybe it is the old Adam coming out and such people as namely targeds); and, in the case of an exchange between two or more writers, these is a law of Ithel, although we are not suggesting this any letters received fall into that category. Considerably they may have for my considerative that there is a law of Ithel, although we are not suggesting this any letters received fall into that category. Considerably they may have four meaders, what they have to say is invariably in the public interest.
